

I really depend on satellite radio to provide me music, traffic and weather for a price I am willing to pay. I would rather do that than have to listen to endless commercials right at the critical time I need my traffic and weather. It would not be constitutional to limit our rights to access such information. I encourage the FCC to reject NAB;s petition 04-160 that would limit my access to information that I am paying for already.